Goofy drivers vandalize lawns, trees

by JANE POLZIN

"I've had them (cars) spin out and wipe out in front of my house," said one Antioch resident who has had cars drive across her lawn.

"It's mostly easement. You don't dare put anything out on your easement," according to Sequit Terrace resident Melody Fahrner.

Mario Maglio, who also lives in the subdivision, is among the residents who have had trees and bushes destroyed by people driving vehicles across their lawns.

"YOU CAN SEE it's done on purpose — they run between rocks and posts," said Maglio, who has paid $550 to replace trees on his front lawn after a vehicle drove over them. "Something's got to be done, but I don't know what," he said.

Maglio set a steel pipe in the ground to discourage the vandals. "I'm sure it did the same amount of damage to their vehicle" as it did to my lawn, he said. "Now I use four by fours and am hoping to stop them if I can. You hate to put rocks and poles all over your lawn."

The problem, which is not limited to the subdivision or the township of Antioch, takes place "mainly on corner lots," Maglio said. He estimated that the problem has existed for about a year and a half.

Mrs. Fahrner said people drove over her lawn "even in the blizzard last year."

SHE ATTRIBUTES the condition to people missing the curve by her home near the intersection of Alma Ter. and Hillside St.

Looking out her living room window, a car drove through the stop sign at the intersection without slowing down. "Nobody stops at that stop sign, nobody," she said.

"It is rare that you see police patrol the street," according to Mrs. Fahrner. She said that people should be ticketed for not stopping at the stop signs.

VEHICLES HAVE COME "within five feet of the house" because they are going so fast that they misjudge the turn, she explained.

"We are always replacing sod and constantly picking up beer and wine bottles," she added.

Mrs. Fahrner said she doesn't think the damage is done intentionally, maintaining that the drivers are "either drunk or flagrant. But unfortunately, they do not realize what they are doing."

There are ways to combat the situation, according to Police Chief Chuck Miller.

He recommended that residents call the police department when the problem occurs. "Let us know. If we don't know what's happening, we can't do anything about it."

A NEIGHBORHOOD WATCH system in which residents mark down the time and day of the week can be helpful, he said, adding that in the past residents experienced the problem "when a certain bar lets out or when the show or a factory lets out, for example."

About a year ago, three young adults and one juvenile were convicted of reckless driving and criminal damage to property in separate incidents. "The four were completely isolated from each other," Miller noted. "Only one was a carload of kids joyriding."

While all four drivers showed "indications of alcohol, they were not found to be too drunk to drive."

He said there have been "about three incidents in the past four months, which hasn't really warranted a detail yet."

In some cases people are missing the curves accidentally, while at other times it is intentional, he said.

Barrington Police Chief Carl Thiel said the problem has been going on in that community "for years."

He said that Barrington citizens have had success setting up a neighborhood alert and putting iron stakes in their lawns.

Village named in suit on behalf of Oddsen family

A $500,000 suit has been filed against the village of Antioch on behalf of the family of Chris Oddsen, who drowned when he was pulled into the swirling water of an open sewer drain.

The village has been named in the suit for "creating a dangerous condition," said Patricia Bobb, attorney for the family.

Oddsen, 19, was pulled into the unmarked open sewer drain shortly after 11 p.m. August 17.

He was driving in three and one-half feet of water when his car stalled on the intersection of Oakwood and North Ave. Oddsen had gotten out of the car when he was pulled through a section of 60 inch sewer drain by the rushing water.

The suit was filed in Lake County Circuit Court.

Shoppers rush to enter turkey contest

Doing your Christmas shopping right at home in Antioch is convenient and helps the community, said Bill Bishoff, chairman of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

The sales tax revenue "is used to support the town, which is very positive," he explained. "The whole town benefits from it," he added.

In addition, by shopping at home, items can be returned quickly and easily, he said.

The Chamber Retail Committee's Let's Talk Turkey in Antioch has gotten off to a good start, said LoAl Clark, committee chairman.

Store owners have already had to get more entry blanks, she reported on the first day of the Christmas promotion.

Shoppers may enter as often as they wish until the Dec. 21 deadline.

Participating Antioch merchants will be giving away one turkey each and the winners will be announced Dec. 22.

To present Christmas concerts

The Antioch Upper Grade School junior senior, and jazz bands will present their annual Christmas concert Sunday, Dec. 16 at 2 p.m. at the Upper Grade School.

The concert is free and the public is urged to get in that Christmas spirit and show support of the bands by attending performance.

Join with the band and hear traditional Christmas songs as well as popular music of the day.

Besides traditional Christmas carols, the audience will hear such selections as music from the movie Superman, Barry Manilow's Copacabana, and a novelty selection Instant Concert in which 30 well-known melodies have been combined into one number.

On Saturday, Dec. 8 the Antioch Community High School band will present its annual Christmas concert. See page two for more details.

150 attend tree lighting

"It's getting bigger and better every year," said Trustee William Seemann of Antioch's annual Christmas tree lighting ceremony, which was attended by about 150 this year.

He recalled that at the first annual event four or five years ago, only village trustees and their families were in attendance.

Mayor Michael J. Haley read a village Christmas proclamation and Santa Claus handed out candy canes to young and old.

Girl Scout Troop 134, the Upper Grade School and Grass Lake School Choruses, the Future Farmers 4-H Club and the Town and Country 4-H Club sang Christmas carols.

Cheers from the crowd were heard when the tree lights in front of the village hall were turned on.

Winners of the ornament contest are Lynette Christensen, a second grader from Antioch Grade School; Wendy Jensen, a fourth grader from St. Peter's School; Julie Andre, fifth grade, Antioch Grade School and Beth Larson, in the seventh-eighth grade category.

Judging the contest were Dee Lang and Dorothy Larson.

Winter parking policy now in effect

The snow parking policy for the village of Antioch follows.

When there is one inch or more of snow, a no parking policy will be in effect for all village streets to facilitate snow plowing operations, said Supervisor of Public Works Walter Shepard.

A "knock on door" policy to remove cars in violation of the winter parking ordinance will be used. "We will try to get it moved, then tow it," he explained.

Residents will be asked to move their cars and will be notified by letter if they fail to remove them habitually, he said.

The winter parking ordinance will be in effect from midnight-7 a.m. and will be strictly enforced, said Lt. Thomas Fisher of the Antioch Police Dept. The department will issue warnings advising residents of the ordinance, he said.

Citations will be issued and vehicles will be towed if it is violated, he added. Cars may be reclaimed by contacting the Antioch Police Dept.

PETER J. CLEVEN

BRUCE JABLONSKI

Jablonski, Simon, Clevon elected to Chamber board

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry announced the election of three board of directors who will serve for a three year term each, beginning January, 1980.

They are Peter J. Clevon, president of the First National Bank of Antioch, Bruce Jablonski of Erickson's Sewing Center and Sharon Simon of the Shoe Box.

Jablonski said he is "very honored to have been nominated and elected to the position."

He hopes he can help the board "with some of the problems they've had in keeping Antioch a viable business district."

A member of the Antioch Rescue Squad and the grade school board, Jablonski was on the Antioch Plan Commission when it developed a comprehensive village plan.

Ms. Simon has been "actively involved in the Chamber" ever since the Shoe Box began business in Antioch 16 years ago. She has operated the store for the past three years.

She said she feels "it is a privilege to be elected to the board," adding that the board members will make "a great working combination for the village."

"I would like to see the Chamber work more closely with village officials," she said.

Clevon, enthusiastic anticipating his new position, said he wants board directors to become more involved in board activities and urged the Chamber board and the village to work together to schedule events.

He is a member of the Lions Club, is serving on the board of directors for the United Way of Lake County and is the president of the Lake County Banker's Federation.

To present Christmas concert

On Saturday night, Dec. 8, at 7:30 p.m., the Antioch High School Symphonic Band, concert band and intermediate band will present its annual Christmas program in the high school auditorium.

The concert band will open the program with "Christmas March," "Jingo Jango," "Hopak," "Snowbird," and "Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas."

The second part of the concert will feature the Intermediate band as they perform five traditional Christmas carols. These include "Adeste Fideles," "The First Noel," "God Rest You Merry Gentlemen," "We Three Kings," and "Good King Wenceslaus."

To close the concert, the symphonic band will play a variety of Christmas selections. They will open with "Christmas Music for Winds" followed by Leroy Anderson's "Sleigh Ride." The third number will be "Walt Disney Overture," a collection of many of the tunes made famous by the late Walt Disney. "Jubilance" will follow and the symphonic band will close the concert with "Christmas Festival," a medley of favorite Christmas carols.

Tickets can be obtained from band students or purchased at the door — Adults, $2 and students, $1.

Toothpick bridge contest is water over dam for ACHS

Antioch dominated the sixth annual toothpick bridge contest held at Grayslake High School after losing the title to Grayslake in the previous year.

Entries were judged for beauty and originality of bridge design and tested for strength.

"The contest was well-attended and the competition was fierce," a spokesman said.

Judging the contest were three engineers and a drafting-mechanical drawing teacher.

Winners for originality were, first place, Robert Stannard, Antioch; second, Bill Hughes and Mark DeMerritt, Antioch and third, Mark Wenda, Grayslake.

Taking the prize for beauty were first, David Witek, Antioch; second, Robert Stannard, Antioch and third, Mark Wenda, Grayslake.

Winning in the strength division were first, Peggy Rogers and Patty Hinz, Antioch; second, Bill Morrison, Grayslake and third, Robert Barnes, Antioch.

The winning bridge held 645 times its own weight. Strength was determined by the ratio of pounds of weight supported over grams of material used in building the bridge.

"The best engineering design wins, not the gross weight supported," he said.

The first place bridge...represents very nearly the optimum strength for a toothpick bridge," he added. It supported 95 pounds with 67 grams of materials.

The third place bridge, in contrast, supported 345 pounds, but used 403.8 grams of material.

OVER TROUBLED WATERS — Winning first place for originality and second for beauty in Sixth Annual Toothpick Bridge Contest is Robert Stannard of Antioch. Antioch, Warren and Grayslake high schools competed in contest.

It was only through the heroic efforts of Eldridge, who managed to keep his head above water by clenching the ice crusts that the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Duffy were saved. The trio then had to walk half a mile suffering from exhaustion, severe cold and shock with skates on and frozen clothes, to the John Palmer residence.

Collect labels to help school

Students at Oakland Grade School are conducting a label collection drive that promises to bring in valuable educational equipment for the school.

As part of a program, called Labels For Education, Campbell Soup Company is offering various items of equipment to elementary schools in exchange for labels from the company's products.

According to Oakland Grade School personnel, schools may redeem the labels for audio-visual equipment, athletic equipment, reference books and teaching aids.

Oakland hopes to collect

11,925 labels before the drive ends Feb. 22, 1980. "That's how many we'll need for a tripod movie screen, 20 playground balls and a heavyduty ball-n-flator," a spokesman said.

Labels from Campbell's soups, beans, tomato juice, "V-8", Swanson Canned Foods and Franco-American products are all redeemable. "We know we have many friends in the community who will want to help. They can do so by saving the Campbell labels and giving them to our students, or, simply drop them off at the school, Deep Lake and Loon Lake Rds.

Hunting changes given

Pheasant hunters who will be hunting at state-run permit hunting areas this year will be required to wear blaze orange hats and upper outer garments.

This new safety precaution is required at the eight permit pheasant areas: Chain O' Lakes, north of Fox Lake; DesPlaines Conservation Area, southwest of Joliet; Iroquois Conservation Area, southeast of St. Anne; Green River Conservation Area, northwest of Ohio; Moraine View, southeast of Olney; Eldon Hazlett, near Carlyle Lake, northeast of Carlyle; and Wayne Fitzgerald, near Rend Lake on Rte. 183, west of I-57.

Hunters who do not have a permit in advance may take the place of "no-shows" by arriving before the 7 a.m. check-in time and waiting in the "sweat line". Many of these hunters may be unaware of the new clothing requirement.

Many hunting dates are still available for the permit areas. Hunters can get permit applications and find out which dates are still available by calling the Chicago Office of the Illinois Dept. of Conservation at 312-793-2070.

Peer counseling helps students adjust at ACHS

"It's hard to put down in words — it's like writing out every emotion you can feel."

Gary Becker, a peer counselor at Antioch Community High School, was among four ACHS students who attended the Illinois Teenage Institute on Substance Abuse and got to know "206 people individually."

They were sponsored by the Antioch Township.

The summer institute has helped train the students for peer counseling groups at the high school, which consist of upperclassmen who volunteer their time to lead the activity for freshmen during one studyhall each day for four weeks.

THE PURPOSE of the program is to "give students a sense of belonging to the school, to make friends in the group," said Guidance Counselor Charles Lindholm, who supervises the program.

The groups' activities are "geared for improved communications, self awareness and growth," he added.

They discuss personal problems and at the top of the list are school difficulties, said Ken Nieze, student peer group counselor.

Family and boyfriend-girlfriend problems are a close second followed by students seeking information about drugs and alcohol.

THE PEER PROGRAM is optional, Nieze said. Students may be excused if they have band, choir or permission from their parents not to participate.

Becker described the students' attitudes toward it as "two-sided — they joke about it and kind of open up" in the sessions.

Each group makes up a set of rules during the first week of the session, with the students making the rules to gain trust in one another, Becker said. "There has to be total agreement," said Peer Group Leader Sandie Jones.

The program is designed to encourage students to discuss problems without pressure, Becker said, adding that an adult is not present, but always available. The group sits on the floor or in the peer counseling's soft-stuffed furniture, which is in keeping with the relaxed atmosphere.

A WORKSHEET TITLED How I Feel About Myself is one of the ways students learn to understand their behavior and see their growth, a leader said.

On the sheet of 20 questions, students rate themselves on a scale of one through five from whether they strongly agree to strongly disagree with the statement.

The statements deal with self confidence, decision-making, feelings, relationships with family and friends and school.

Another activity includes discussing the major problems of young people, wherein the freshmen define and discuss these areas.

THROUGH THE PROGRAM, the leaders learned a lot about themselves, as well as others, said Ellen Seder. Their special training on how to cope with problems and work with other kids has helped them learn to listen, said Melaine Mohar and Nancy Mattson, also group leaders.

Reflecting on the program, Lindholm said, "We hope to continue the program and keep improving it. Each year it gets better."

School Supt. Warren Polley said the program is part of the school's philosophy of striving "for making everyone in this institution realize they are an individual in relation to other individuals...in a society wherein people can hide behind anonymity."

Boy Scout Troop 91, of the United Methodist Church of Antioch, will be having a meeting for boys in sixth grade or 11 years of age at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 10 at the United Methodist Church of Antioch. Those parents who wish to have their boys in Scouting should attend, a spokesman said.

Warren earns award

Century 21 International Headquarters announced that Michael Warren, broker/owner of Century 21 Michael Warren & Co., Antioch, has been awarded the prestigious Achievement In Management (AIM) Award for 1979.

The AIM Award is presented annually to a select group of outstanding broker/owners within the Century 21 organization, and is the highest honor an affiliated Century 21 broker can receive. The primary criteria for selection as an AIM Award winner are exceptional service to the community and increased production.

The AIM winner met certain standards, over a one-year period, to qualify for the AIM Award. These standards include increased production, on an individual salesperson and office basis, upgrading of office and facilities, and increased personal and professional growth.

Century 21 Michael Warren & Co. has been serving the Antioch community for more than seven years, and has been affiliated with Century 21 since 1975.

Warren is a charter member of the Antioch Rotary Club and has served in the past as a director of the Lake County Board of Realtors and president of the Multiple Listing Service.

Dental health program told

Fourth and fifth graders in Antioch can learn how to take care of their teeth and gums by applying the specific preventive dental practices taught to them by high school or junior high school students.

The program through which they learn is the program of the Lake County Health Dept. The opportunity to participate is made available to schools in Lake County each year.

Participating this semester are Antioch High School, Antioch Grade Schools, Oakland and Channel Lake.

Each high school student who volunteers for the program is trained for two weeks by a dentist or dental hygienist. He or she is then responsible for teaching a class in oral health, with the help of the elementary school teacher.

The high school students thus provide a new source of teaching manpower for health education. At the same time they are learning to take responsibility and learning a health career.

Topics covered in the program include removal of plaque through brushing and flossing and the proper diet for good oral health.

Teaching techniques include films, demonstrations, use of dental mirrors and disclosing tablets and practice of brushing and flossing. Parents of the elementary school children are encouraged to become involved in the program to assure followup at home.

INSURANCE INFORMATION

To increase available space, we have decided to build a detached garage and storage room in our backyard. What kind of policy will insure these structures against fire damage?

Under your Homeowners Policy, on-the-premises structures, used in connection with the occupancy of the dwelling and not attached, will be automatically insured. However, this coverage extension is only 10% of the amount of coverage you carry on your home. If you believe this amount is inadequate, an endorsement to the Homeowners Policy can be purchased to increase the coverage on the structures to their full value.

LIBRA

(September 24 - October 22) Emotional, material and fiscal tensions could get you down—even to the point of affecting your health.

SCORPIO

(October 23 - November 22) Communications and discussions could prove fruitless, riddled with loopholes. Concentrate on ongoing projects.

Be wary when making holiday purchases

With the gift-buying season upon us, Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott suggested that consumers take certain precautions to make sure they are happy about their holiday purchases.

When buying from a retail store, Scott advises you to make sure you know the store's policy on returns. Does the store give you your money back? Even exchange? Credit your account? If so, how long after the item is purchased may it be returned? Are items on sale returnable? And how about personal apparel items, lingerie, bathing suits, earrings, etc? Usually neither sales nor personal items are returnable.

Keep receipts. Most stores will not make refunds without receipts.

Knowledge of the store's policy will enable you to buy wisely. Remember that stores are not obligated to make returns on anything purchased unless the article is defective.

By the time you read this, it probably will be too late to order gifts by mail. That may be just as well since mail order frauds form a large percentage of the complaints made to the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division. If you've already ordered, let's hope you did not do business with a post office box.

Post Office addresses can be closed after transactions, leaving the consumer no place to complain about incorrect orders, or inferior merchandise, or to ask for refunds if a gift has not been delivered at all, or not been delivered, as specified, before Christmas. Mail order purchases should always be paid for by check. Your cancelled check is your receipt. Cash transactions leave no record of your purchase.

Politics class reflects changing government

"Each year the class in comparative governments changes, just as the governments of the world shift," says College of Lake County instructor Ruth Rickard. Mrs. Rickard has taught

"Comparative Governments" for 10 years at CLC, and has scheduled the class again for this spring semester. Though the class studies the same themes, such as the theory of revolution, European governments and elections, and new governments, changes in the world scene are reflected in the class discussions and class emphasis. Interest in the class also shifts with world affairs.

"People seem more interested in world affairs right now as revolutions on the other side of the world seem to hit closer to home and affect the lives of American citizens," Mrs. Rickard said.

In addition to the situation in Iran and the Mideast, Mrs. Rickard also points to changes in the Soviet Union.

"With the illness of some of the top leaders in Russia, there will probably be new officials controlling that government," she believes. "That may influence the United States' relations with Russia."

Though there is constant change, the basic theories included in the class format provide the students with tools to examine different governments and analyze their effectiveness in all political situations.

The three-credit-hour class will meet from noon to 12:50 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays on the Grayslake campus beginning Jan. 14. Registration is being accepted now in the admission office on the Grayslake campus.

The Grass Lake School Board officially accepted the resignation of Ruth McKenzie.

Mrs. McKenzie, a teacher at Grass Lake School for nine years, has accepted a position as principal of Holton Elementary School in Holton, Mich.

She was awarded a plaque and nameplate by school faculty, staff and administration at a banquet in her honor.

Listed in Who's Who Among Educators in America, Mrs. McKenzie has been active in after-school and special school activities as well as making many contributions as a member of the Lake Villa United Methodist Church.

She was president of the Lake Villa Grade School Board for three years and a board member for six years.

Active in music, she was both adult and junior choir director at the church and taught private piano and organ lessons in Lake Villa for nine years.

Mrs. McKenzie said she was "leaving a lot of dear friends" in the area and has "enjoyed the children and...watching them grow," adding that she wishes them "nothing but the best."

Sequoits take loss to Grant Frosh Basketball gets win

The Antioch Sequoits Basketball Team took a 54-37 loss to Grant in its fourth game of the season.

"Overall, it was not a very good game for us," said Head Coach Roger Andrews.

The team made a large number of turnovers and its "ball handling and general offensive play was really below par," he said.

Defensively, "we did several things pretty well," he said, "we just couldn't muster anything offensively."

The two teams were "pretty even" statistically, he added. "We fouled a little more than they did."

Optimistically, the coach said that the game was "not a true indication of how we can play."

John Ploss, a 6'7" junior, "did a real good job defensively and on the boards," and Mike Pramshafer was also credited for a good game.

Andrews is looking forward to the game against Grayslake at 8 p.m. Dec. 7 in Grayslake.

The opponents "appear to be a little small in stature," but they've won three games, he said.

Defensively, the coach expects and zone and/or pressing defense, but "it's hard to say."

Antioch's Freshman basketball team recorded its first win of the season by downing Grant 52-34 last Saturday.

Antioch dominated the game from the start by jumping out to a 17-6 lead at the end of one period. The Frosh maintained their lead by completely controlling the boards.

Antioch grabbed 42 rebounds to only 15 for Grant. Chris Becker and

Tim Hartokolis had 11 and 13 rebounds respectively. Becker was also the leading scorer with 18 points. Derek Olsen added 10 points and Tom Anderson chipped in eight. As a team Antioch shot a hot 56 percent from the field. Antioch shot a poor six for 14 from the line and committed 26 turnovers. Coach Norm Hahn, however, was pleased. "We played much better ball today than last week," he stated. "As we continue to improve, we will be a formidable team."

The B-team is still looking for its first win of the season as it lost to Grant 43-35. The Sequoits put on a great comeback by scoring 19 points in the fourth quarter but it was too late. John Sillanoff and David Schumaker led the late surge with six points and five points respectively.

The next freshman game is on Saturday, Dec. 8 at Grayslake.

Census to survey hired farm workers

Information about farm work done for pay during the past year and about migratory farm work will be collected by the Bureau of the Census in this area, Stanley D. Moore, director of the bureau's regional office in Chicago, has announced.

Interviewers will visit a sample of households here during the week of Dec. 10-15.

The farm work questions are in addition to the ones asked regularly in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted by the bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor.

Results of this survey provide data on conditions in the labor force, prime indicators of the economic health of the country.

For example, in October the survey indicated that of the 103.5 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 97.3 million were employed. The nation's unemployment rate was 6 percent, up from 5.8 percent in September but substantially below the recession peak of 8.9 percent reached in the second quarter of 1975.

About 76,000 households across the country, scientifically selected to represent a cross section of American households, take part in this monthly survey. All information provided the bureau is confidential by law and can be published only as statistical totals in which no individual or household can be identified.

Block grant funding plans told

The Antioch Village Board announced it is seeking additional block grant monies for a senior citizen center and park equipment at a public hearing for community block grant funding.

No recommendations were made by the public at the hearing.

The village intends to apply for an additional $50,000 for improvements to and completion of a senior citizen center to be located near the Hiram Buttrick Sawmill.

The village's second request is for $5,000 for park equipment, including a baseball diamond to be located on Upper Grade School property.

The board met Nov. 29 with parks and recreation and grade school board representatives "to discuss increased usage of school property for the parks program," said Trustee Donald Amundsen.

CLINIC

Enter now for Miss Antioch

The search for Miss America 1980 will spotlight talented young ladies representing the major areas of Lake County in the Second Annual Miss Antioch Pageant.

This year the contest, sponsored by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry, is open to candidates from southern boundary communities such as Lake Forest, Vernon Hills and Wauconda and northern state line communities including Antioch, Zion, and Waukegan.

The girl selected Miss Antioch on Saturday, March 29, 1980, at Antioch Community High School, could be the next Miss Illinois and the new Miss America.

To qualify, a young woman must be 17 and a high school graduate — not older than 26 on Labor Day, Sept. 1, 1980. She must be an American citizen and must never have been married or have had a child. She must live, work or go to school within the boundaries of Lake County set forth by the Miss Antioch committee, assisted by Illinois pageant coordinator, Jack Collins.

Personality, poise, beauty and talent are the major requirements, with each contestant judged in private interview, in evening gown, in swimsuit and in the talent presentation. Judging will be based on the same values as considered at the Miss Illinois Pageant in Aurora and the National Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City.

Civic and social organizations in communities throughout the area are urged to refer candidates to the pageant committee, including Marlo Good, chairman, Bill Groeninger, co-chairman, Sandy Siegmeier, Pat Ser-shon, Florence Babusek, Janice Trapp and Mari-Anne Hechmann.

Consider the outstanding young women you know personally, relatives, daughters of friends, co-workers, who have taken the time to learn and develop a special talent and wish to further their education by taking advantage of the state and national scholarship awards, a spokesman said.

Application for the Miss Antioch event may be made in person at the Chamber office, 880½ Main Street, Antioch or by mailing the completed application to the same address. For more information, please call the Chamber office at 395-3381, Marlo Good, chairman, 395-2465 or Bill Groeninger, 395-2700.
